NYCAMH, the New York Center for Agricultural Medicine & Health in Cooperstown, is available to do agricultural safety presentations for 4-H Groups in New York. NYCAMH can also do safety presentations for Tractor Operator Certification courses. Our agricultural safety programs are interactive and designed for young adults and youth working on New York farms. These presentations are free of charge and are made possible from a grant from the New York State Department of Labor Hazard Abatement Board.

We have training demonstrations and activities on farmstead, personal protective equipment, mechanical and PTO safety, and tractor safety. Here is a listing of topics that we can cover:

- Farmstead Safety – Discover ways to find hazards on the farm. Conduct a farm safety hazard hunt. Learn how to identify and correct safety hazards!
- Personal Protective Equipment – See what can happen when the right gear is not worn to protect head, eyes and feet. Learn about equipment standards and where to purchase protective gear.
- Mechanical and PTO Safety – Watch how “fingers” and “clothing” can be smashed and caught when shields are not used. Learn how to protect yourself from these injuries.
- Tractor Safety – Discover the number one cause of US farm fatalities, and how these fatalities can be prevented.

If you would like to schedule a presentation for your 4-H group, please call us at 800-343-7527 extension 239 and ask to speak with Jim Carrabba, Farm Safety Education Specialist. Or you can e-mail me at jcarrabba@nycamh.com.
